

Stock Recode Utility

The Stock Recode Utility allows the user to change unique code for a selected stock record.

The utility will be presented as a menu option within the Stock-Utilities submenu.

The utility will present a form enabling the user to enter an existing stock reference, and a new stock code to which the existing item should be changed.

Recode Options

Stock Ref : CMAT044 Car Mat - Small

New Ref : CMAT044NEW

Version Information OK Cancel

Bespoke Process

The utility will check that the new stock reference is not already in use on another item. If it is already in use, the routine will warn the user and abort without updating Opera. If the new reference is valid, then the stock record will be updated with the new stock reference and all occurrences of the old stock reference within other modules in opera will also be updated.

Note: The update will NOT apply to references embedded in PDF images. These are stored in a compressed format and no textual data is contained therein. It is therefore not possible to update PDF images.

On successful update of the stock reference, the original reference will be stored on the Stock record Old Stock Reference bespoke field (CNAME.CN_OLDCODE)
